Who is it for?

Do you suffer from unsightly nails? Keen to cover up a cosmetic defect or treat an infection without having to hide your feet away? You can now have a treatment that helps to you to permanently resolve any fungus or disease, whilst at the same time uses modern corrective materials to provide an aesthetically pleasing, cosmetic solution.

Who is this treatment suitable for?

This treatment can help people with

- Discoloured nails
- Fungal infections
- Ingrown toenails
- Recurrent sports injuries
- Split or broken nails (where the nail could otherwise tear and cause damage)
- Partially removed nails (through surgery or following corn removal)
- Thick nails

It is suitable for both men and women, and can be used for teenagers as well, if appropriate.

Whilst many women prefer a shiny finish, the reconstructed nails can be left with a more natural matt finish.

Unlike cosmetic varnishes and gels, this treatment does not damage the patient's existing nail. It allows medical treatment to be applied to the original problem so that this has time to resolve itself whilst the feet are looking presentable. Patients can apply and remove nail varnish without damaging the temporary nail underneath.

Treatment sessions will require an appointment of around an hour.

One treatment - £90
